Dear Sir:

Prior to examining the above-identified application, please enter the following amendment:

IN THE CLAIMS:

Please add the following claims:

57. (New) A computer system comprising:

a plurality of separate system units for performing sequences of transactions, each including at least a processor unit for generating addresses within a predetermined global range; a global address router coupled to said plurality of separate system units and configured to transfer addresses generated in any of said system units to others of said system units;
